IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. You must cure these troubles or they may lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Residents of this vicinity are constantly testifying to permanent cures.

W. E. Watson, Washington St., Elkton, Ky., says: "Kidney trouble bothered me a great deal for five or six years. There was a constant ache in my back at night which prevented me from sleeping well and when I arose in the morning, I was very lame and stiff. Headaches and dizzy spells were common and I was nervous at times. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage, especially at night and I was obliged to arise several times. At last it was my good fortune to hear of Doan's Kidney Pills and I procured a supply. They relieved me at once and the contents of one box completely cured me. I am very grateful to Doan's Kidney Pills and highly recommend them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

DICKENS' DESCENDANTS.

At the Dickens birthday dinner of the Box club, given in London in February, more than a dozen members of the Dickens family were present. It is only 41 years since the death of the great novelist, and his immediate descendants need not be very aged men and women. Yet the effects of vast fame is to impel a great figure away from us into the classic past. That a son of Charles Dickens should now be going about England and giving readings out of "The Cricket on the Hearth" impresses one as unnatural and odd. One of Charles Dickens' sons served for some time in the mounted police in the western provinces and served in the second rebellion.

SALT WATER AS GERMICIDE.

At Seattle Dr. Crichton has ordered the use of Puget sound sea water to lay the dust and flush the streets. "Salt water is one of the best germicides in the world," says Dr. Crichton. "Sea water contains several grains of chloride of sodium to the gallon and within a few days the city's streets will become white with sodium chloride and the action of the sun's rays on this will produce chlorine gas, one of the very best disinfectants known to science."

EAGLE PEST IN IDAHO.

Eagles are becoming a threatening agency of destruction of the deer of this state, says a dispatch from Boise, Idaho, to the Chicago Examiner. Information has been received by the state game warden to the effect that in many sections of the state every young fawn has been carried away by eagles of large species, and while no estimate can be obtained as to the amount of game which has been destroyed through this agency, it is said to be extremely large.

LOGICAL.

"What did you ask such a tight man as that to contribute to charity for?"

"Because it was for a shut-in society."

NEW SCHEME OF THE THIEF

Disguised as Agent, He Persuades Housewife to Smell Soap in Which Chloroform is Concealed.

A clever new method of gaining entrance to homes has been invented by thieves, and is now being practiced extensively in New York and the larger cities of the states. Its very simplicity will prove a surprise. The thief appears at the door as an agent for some fancy soap and during the conversation regarding the merits of the product he has for sale he learns whether the housewife is alone. If this fact is established he instructs the prospective buyer to test the quality of the soap by smelling it. Unsuspectingly this is done and the woman suddenly becomes unconscious. Concealed in the soap is a sponge containing chloroform. The intruder can then take what he will and depart without suspicion. If anyone else should be home he ceases to try to sell the soap.

GAVE HERSELF AWAY.

The Summer Boy—If I should try to kiss you, do you think your dog would bite me?"
The Summer Girl (absently)—He's never bitten any of my other friends.

ANY OLD THING.

He was a stranger in town and on his first visit to the Museum of Natural History. After wandering about for a spell he approaches the director and said:

"Sir, I observe that you have a mummy 7,000 years old in your collection."

"Yes."

"I want to buy it."

"But it is not for sale."

"Can't you stretch a point in my favor and fix a satisfactory price?"

"Certainly not. What on earth do you want with a mummy?"

"Well, this is my first visit to the city, and before I left home my wife asked me to bring her back a souvenir. I asked her what it should be, and she said most any old thing. I think that 7,000-year-old mummy is old enough to fill the bill, and I won't mind going as high as $15 if you'll pay the freight charges."

WHERE CAMELS SMOKE.

A curious fact is described in the Strand Magazine regarding the taming of wild camels by the natives of Morocco. A three-cornered piece of wood, through which a hole is drilled, is placed in the mouth of the camel and a lighted cigar, very large and loosely rolled, is then inserted in the hole. As soon as the animal starts to draw it becomes very tame and continues to inhale the smoke and to emit it through its nose. As soon as the first cigar is finished a new one must be put in its place, otherwise the camel becomes furious and very stubborn, fixes its legs in the ground, and cannot be made to move until the cigar smokes again.

WISE WARNING.

Miss Ellen Terry, at a farewell luncheon in New York, gave a group of young actresses a little lecture on the value of advertisement.

Concerning modesty in advertisement Miss Terry said, neatly:

"Don't let your press agent hide your light under a bushel, but don't let him be silly, either, and pretend that you're the whole power plant, and the Great White Way would be plunged in total darkness if you were to quit."

MILDLY INTERESTED.

"What was that tiresome old explorer talking about?" the languid woman asked.

"Progressive Patagonia?"

"And how do you play it?"
